LAST YEAR --

Ninyo & Moore, a minority-owned business, was established in 1986 to provide exceptional environmental and geotechnical engineering, engineering geology, hazardous materials, construction inspection and testing, geophysical, forensic engineering, and industrial hygiene services to the public and private sectors. Ninyo & Moore has provided these services for the design and construction of water and wastewater treatment plants, reservoirs and tanks, colleges and universities, schools, hospitals, pipelines, tunnels, storm drains, dams, municipal and commercial structures, power plants and utility installations, transmission lines, and other public and private works. Ninyo & Moore's accredited laboratories provide full-service soils and construction materials testing services.

COMPANY STRENGTHS: "A professional and technical staff that is knowledgeable, takes pride in their work, is always looking for ways to improve or innovate, and routinely provides exceptional customer service and responsiveness."

IMPACT OF 2020 TRENDS: "Three years of Maricopa County being the fastest growing county in the nation has substantially increased private real estate transactions and development, with a complimentary increase in public spending thanks to increases in property values and sales tax revenues."
